In the News

Land surveyors, agricultural workers attend GPS workshops (OSU Barometer)

"I believe it is a responsibility as a university," Prof. Robert Schultz says, "to reach out to the professionals." Schultz called the professionally oriented workshops "continuing education," emphasizing the importance of keeping potential alumni up to date with recent advances in technology.

Opportunities

Junior/seniors – please pick up your homework in 101 Kearney; some papers are from Fall. Cindy is running out of counter space!

FEB 7, 14, 21, 28 - Small Group Career Counseling, B008 Kerr Administration Bldg. Come join an energizing group where you will discover your passion, learn about yourself and explore meaningful careers in a safe and supportive environment with like-minded people. Please fill out a quick survey and the facilitator will connect with you shortly. Questions? Contact marian.moore@oregonstate.edu or 541-737-0529.

FEB 9, Thurs - COE Study Abroad will showcase study abroad opportunities for engineering students. Come learn about programs that offer engineering coursework, funding an international experience and how to fit study abroad into a tight academic schedule. Students who studied abroad in the past as well as international students from our partner universities will be available to answer specific questions. The format of the event is such that you can drop by anytime, it is not required to stay for the entire event. Refreshments provided. 10–12pm: General Information; 12–1pm: Returned Students’ Panel. International Resource Center in the Memorial Union (adjacent to the MU Living Room).

FEB 8-11 - Good Luck to our 8 CEM Student Teams (50 students in total) heading to Reno, NV for the annual the ASC Regions 6 & 7 Student Competition. Also attending with the teams will be David Trejo, Interim School Head, Professor Rogge and Joe Fradella, Instructor. This year’s teams have been supported both in time and funding by industry. Special thanks to all of our sponsors this year!

Engineers Without Borders annual banquet on Friday, February 17th from 6-8pm at the Corvallis Country Club. This year, the banquet is sponsored by CH2M Hill. The evening will feature a catered dinner, performances by local entertainers, and a presentation on our work around the world. Tickets are $50 for general admission and $35 for OSU students. All proceeds go towards rainwater catchment and drilling wells in Lela, Kenya. For more details, including how to buy tickets, please visit www.ewbosu.org/banquet or email fundraising@ewb-osu.org. We would appreciate it if you could RSVP by February 5th.

Volunteers - The Oregon chapter of the American Public Works Association (APWA) is inviting the next generation of public works professionals to our spring conference; Thursday, April 19 at the Valley River Inn, in Eugene. We would like to have students help out as room monitors during one or more of the educational sessions. A room monitor ensures the meeting room is ready for the educational session, collects continuing education forms, hands out raffle tickets and assists with a raffle drawing at the end of the session. In return for a student’s help as room monitor, he or she is invited to participate in classes and attend lunch—all free-of-charge. Students will have the unique opportunity to network in a relaxed setting with many people from different areas of Public Works. This is a great opportunity for students to learn more about jobs that they may not have known existed. (Public Works not only hire College Graduates, but they have an apprenticeship program too.) If you are interested or would like more information please contact DeeDee Thomas, City of Springfield (541-726-3670) by March 27, 2012 by email: dmthomas@springfield-or.gov.
